

Yes! You can project PDF pages as though they are slides. Every PDF reader has a “slideshow” or “view full screen” mode. If you’ve never projected from a PDF before, just search YouTube for the name of your PDF reader software and “full screen mode” to learn how to do this. Or, even better, just ask one of your students and you’ll quickly be up and running.

Typewriter image credit: Unsplash, Public domain

QUALITIES OF PERSONAL NARRATIVE WRITING

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one
incident from your life

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one
incident from your life
- Short time period: One day,
one hour, or even a few minutes

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one
incident from your life
- Short time period: One day,
one hour, or even a few minutes
- Descriptive writing
Use all of your senses

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one
incident from your life
- Short time period: One day,
one hour, or even a few minutes
- Descriptive writing
Use all of your senses
- Includes dialogue,
both spoken and internal

- Also called,
"Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one
incident from your life
- Short time period: One day,
one hour, or even a few minutes
- Descriptive writing
Use all of your senses
- Includes dialogue,
both spoken and internal
- First-person narration

- Also called, "Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one incident from your life
- Short time period: One day, one hour, or even a few minutes
- Descriptive writing
Use all of your senses
- Includes dialogue, both spoken and internal
- First-person narration
- Use a clear chronology/order of plot events

- Also called, "Autobiographical Incident"
- Tells the story of one incident from your life
- Short time period: One day, one hour, or even a few minutes
- Descriptive writing
Use all of your senses
- Includes dialogue, both spoken and internal
- First-person narration
- Use a clear chronology/order of plot events
- Includes a lasting lesson or message to the reader in the story's resolution/conclusion